

I Am A Citizen Advocate

Name: Agnès Rossignol

Age: 36

Profession:
Lawyer and Journalist

Why I Advocate:

I realized that I could make a difference & stand up for the world's poorest by using my voice to influence policy-makers.

Name: Gédéon Djissa

Age: 26

Profession:
PhD Student at the University of Ottawa

Why I Advocate:

I use my voice and mobilize others to take action together in favor of the world's poor. Together, we are contributing to end poverty.

Name: Roshelle Filart

Age: 49

Profession:
Educator

Why I Advocate:

I'm an agent of change in Canada, raising awareness to mobilize the political will and resources that can help end poverty everywhere.

Name: Audrey Thorn-Grégoire

Age: 28

Profession:
Commerce Student at Concordia University

Why I Advocate:

It is unacceptable that only the wealthiest benefit in this world. In a world with so much wealth and technology, I am convinced that it is possible to end poverty.

Name: Annie Cloutier

Age: 20

Profession:
Nursing Student at McGill University

Why I Advocate:

To raise awareness and encourage my country to do its part to eradicate poverty.

Name: Catherine Primeau

Age: 35

Profession:
Mechanical Engineer

Why I Advocate:

Quick, simple advocacy techniques—like writing letters to the editor or writing to decision makers—make a difference, and that is super rewarding!

Name: Nathaniel Poole

Age: 54

Profession:
Profession Novelist

Why I Advocate:

I've seen millions of dollars directed by government towards campaigns that help the world's poorest. As a powerful collective, our combined voices have a powerful impact.

Discover your power to create change
www.results-resultats.ca

RESULTS
Canada